

Fathers Day LIFESTYLE • HOLIDAYS

Father's Day gifts he'll love

Updated June 7, 2017 5:23 AM

By Newsday.com Staff, Lara Ewen Special to Newsday

✉ A+ A-

He's been there for you through scraped knees, bad dates and that really awful haircut he swore looked "just fine." And while he probably already has enough coffee mugs, and he doesn't want another tie, that doesn't mean he doesn't need you to show him a little love. So this year, when Father's Day rolls around on June 18, get him something unexpected that shows him how cool you know he really is. From the classic trappings of old-school gentlemen to cool, high-tech gadgets to simply silly stuff guaranteed to make him smile, we've rounded up a collection of gifts picked to help you remind him that he's the best dad ever.

BIBO cocktail machine

For dads who are always dreaming of Margaritaville, this is the fastest way to make his dreams come true. The BIBO cocktail machine is designed to make the perfect mix, every time, with the push of a button. Just add the mix, the shot and you've got yourself a party. Available in black or red. $229.99 at select retailers; bibobarmaid.com/where-to-buy for a list.